EROS GRAFFITI is a fascinating journey through the costumes, traditions, events and history of eroticism from the beginning of 1960. A very complete archive of vintage footage (some of which are unpublished or impossible to find) that narrate and recite, with some mischievousness, the story of the first years of the 900s. An image of the history and eroticism of those times, seen through the cinema's magic box and enriched by a beautiful soundtrack made of original vintage tracks.
